ABOUT US

Burlington Economic Development delivers the tools and resources needed for businesses looking to expand, start-up or locate in Burlington. In 2017, Burlington Economic Development opened TechPlace, a destination where technology, talent and ideation come together under one roof to create and promote opportunities for economic growth.

Burlington Economic Development supports established companies to locate and grow in Burlington through Soft Landing offices, facilitated by the TechPlace LaunchPad Program. Becoming a TechPlace Soft Landing resident takes the guesswork out of international expansion by allowing you to get on the ground and connect to the new market firsthand. TechPlace can help technology-driven businesses looking to expand their product or service to the Canadian marketplace, become part of a community-oriented environment and benefit from the resources and connections TechPlace offers.
